To Whom It May Concern,

I am applying for the position entitled “Senior Software Engineer – Apple Fundamentals”. I believe I am uniquely qualified for this position for the following reasons:

- I have extensive experience developing for Apple technologies, including both Mac OS and iOS.
- I have worked on many cross-platform teams, including Tcl/Tk for Mac, Windows, and Unix, and FileMaker Pro for Mac and Windows.
- I have extensive experience with build systems for cross platform work, including shell scripts, make, Xcode, and Visual Studio.

I am looking for a new position that can leverage my unique skill set. I would be honored if you would consider me for this position.

Sincerely,

Sydney R. Polk
